

1 Morphological categories

2 Parts-of-speech

The parts-of-speech in use are described in more detail here.<sup>1</sup>

Open class words:

ADJ

ADV      *«Германские войска быстро продвигались вперёд
и к 1942 году вышли к Северному Кавказу.»*

INTJ

NOUN

PROPN

VERB

Closed class words:

- ADP

- CONJ

- DET

- NUM

- PART

- PRON

- SCONJ

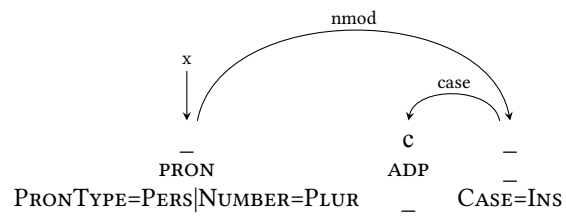

Other:

- PUNCT

- X

---

<sup>1</sup><http://universaldependencies.org/ru/pos/all.html>

3 Phrasal categories

NP

VP

AP

AdvP

PP

XP

4 Dependency relations

The dependency relations in the construction are based on Universal Dependencies.<sup>2</sup>

5 Semantic roles

|          |   |
|----------|---|
| Actant   |   |
| Action   |   |
| Activity |   |
| Actor    |   |
| Agent    | Refers to the initiator of an event.[Вася] <sub>Agent</sub> ловит рыбу. |

<sup>2</sup><http://>

Рыба ловится [Васей]Agent

---

Associated

---

BaseOfPredication

---

Beneficiary

---

Cause

---

Circumstance

---

Class

---

Concerning

---

Condition

---

Context

---

Corresponding

---

Direction

---

Distance

---

Entity

---

Evaluation

---

Event

---

Experiencer

---

Function

---

Goal

|              |
|--------------|
| Instrument   |
| Landmark     |
| Location     |
| Locative     |
| Manner       |
| Material     |
| Object       |
| Part         |
| Participant  |
| Path         |
| Patient      |
| Phenomenon   |
| Property     |
| Purpose      |
| Quantitative |
| Recipient    |
| Requirement  |
| Result       |

|           |
|-----------|
| Situation |
| Source    |
| State     |
| Theme     |
| Trajector |
| Undergoer |

Table 1: List of semantic roles

6 Naming constructions

7 The structure of the constructicon

Name This is the name of the construction (see §6).

Illustration This is a short/minimal example of the construction.

Berkeley ID

Type

Category This is the resulting syntactic category of the construction.

FrameNet The FrameNet frame invoked by the construction (if applicable).

Definition A free text definition in Russian. The parts of the definition corresponding to construction elements are tagged with the appropriate semantic role (see §5)