6   Naming constructions

If the construction forms a complete utterance, such as 'как бы не VP-Inf!' then the name of the construction should be in sentence case, e.g. 'Как бы не VP-Inf!'

If the construction is an for exclamation or question, then it should include the relevant punctuation mark: !, ?

When there is a construction that has two possibilities, then the name should include the most frequent. For example: instead of 'NP-Nom говорить|выступать перед NP-Dat', the construction should be named 'NP-Nom говорить перед NP-Dat' and 'выступать' should be added to the `Common words` field, possibly with a note in the description.

If you need to number a constituent, the numeral should come straight after the phrasal category in superscript, e.g. 'То ли NP^1, то ли NP^2'. This allows us to distinguish indexing from morphological features.

7   The structure of the constructicon

Name This is the name of the construction (see §6).

Illustration This is a short/minimal example of the construction.

Berkeley ID

Type

Category This is the resulting syntactic category of the construction.

FrameNet The FrameNet frame invoked by the construction (if applicable).

Definition A free text definition in Russian. The parts of the definition corresponding to construction elements are tagged with the appropriate semantic role (see §5)
